THIERRY HENRY IS DELIGHTED AT THE INCLUSION OF THE MERGES OLYMPICS WITH THE PARALYMPICS FOR PARIS 2024

The famous coach of the France Espoirs team, Thierry Henry, coach now has the opportunity to make his fans and players dream, he who not only represents a football legend, alongside Zinedine Zidane, having marked the 1998 championship, from the first world champion title to the coronations at EURO 2000 and the 2003 Confederations Cup. He is a role model for all young people who love or practice this sporting and Olympic discipline. Thierry Henri confides "We don't know where we will end up, but we will do everything to get this medal at home", and remembers his years spent in New York, a city which "still fascinates him" and his attachment to the USA. The last time France brought home Olympic gold was 40 years ago, in 1984 in Los Angeles. Thierry Henry confides his optimism, and satisfaction, following the draw "Now we know. We have a friendly match against the United States on Monday, that was not planned. We will prepare in the best possible way and try to go as far as possible. "

INTERVIEW BY USPA'S CORRESPONDENT, Rahma Sophia RACHDI

USPA QUESTION: You are a very engaged man towards the underprivileged people, and especially the most vulnerable. How do you see the merge of Olympics with Paralympics, by Paris 2024, as a one of a kind gesture towards the inclusion of people with disability?

ANSWER THIERRY HENRY : Yes of course, I'm so glad, and couldn't be happier that Paralympics merged with the Olympics, as a matter of fact, I usually do not even make a difference, because I see the performance of the athletes, whether they have impairment or not, as an obstacle. This is the inclusion.
